

Golf Course to Be Revamped

Meeting Tuesday To Talk Improved Greens at Lake

Hamlin may soon have a first class golf course, complete with grass greens and broad fairways, if plans of leaders of the Lakeview Golf Club materialize, according to leaders of the organization.

A gathering that will discuss and formulate plans for revamping the golf program of the club has been called for Tuesday evening at the city hall. Meeting time is 7:30 o'clock. Calling the meeting are Chuck Albritton, president, and Earl Smith, secretary.

Old members, which now number 32, as well as others in the Hamlin community interested in playing golf, are invited to attend the Tuesday evening gathering.

Lakeview Golf Club is located south of the old Hamlin Lake, and is accessible on the McCaulley highway from the south. Property is owned by the city. Leaders of the club explain that the greens can be easily watered for nominal expense with water from the lakes west of town.

Already a fund has been started to pay for rehabilitating the club's facilities. Twenty-four of the present members have agreed to donate $100 each for the fund.

New members will be accepted for the Lakeview Golf Club at $10 each for a limited time, officials of the club explain. Membership may be raised after the present campaign is conducted, and even a limited number of members may be accepted.

Discussion at the Tuesday conference may also include erection of a country club at the golf course as well as talk of a swimming pool and other facilities for members and their families.

Officials of the club point out that numbers of golfers of the Hamlin area have been going to Anson and Stamford recently to play on grass greens.

"The saving in car expense and other costs of Hamlin members going to other towns to play put in the local fund will soon pay for improvements at the Lakeview club," leaders say. "Green fees paid to other clubs also would be saved, to say nothing of quick accessibility right here at home."

Local Man Named Loan Group Head

Joe Culbertson and Joe Breed have returned from attending the annual stockholder's meeting of the Federal Land Bank, Houston. Culbertson is vice-president and Breed secretary treasurer of the Jones County National Farm Loan Association.

At the meeting, Sterling Evans, president of the Houston bank, reported more loans had been made in 1949 than in any year since 1935, which was a depression year. He added, however, that all loans were solvent and stressed the fact that after dividends were declared, loans were obtained for 3 1/2 percent.

Culbertson was honored by selection as president of the 142-member National Farm Loan Association. He had served as vice president of the organization since previous summer and was elevated to the presidency following the resignation of Herbert Decker, Denton.

Mrs. Culbertson and Mrs. Breed accompanied their husbands on the trip. They reported a greater traffic congestion in the Abilene vicinity than at any point on the trip.

Eye Injury Sustained By Jimmy Wilkinson

Jimmy Wilkinson, eight-year-old son of Mrs. Evelyn Wilkinson of Northwest Hamlin, sustained a painful injury to his left eye Saturday evening when the member was struck with a rock. The eyeball was cut and a severe hemorrhage followed the injury.

The youngster was rushed to Abilene for treatment, and is returning every day for treatment and observation. Doctors Wednesday were unable to determine whether the child would lose the sight in the eye.

Jimmy was playing with the Cammichiel and Scott children when the accident occurred, reports Mrs. Wilkinson.

PAK METERS DAMAGED.

Four of the new city parking meters in front of Safeway store were smashed Wednesday night by unknown parties. Investigation is being conducted.

Prospect of Increased Acreages for Cotton and Wheat Seen in New Talks

Prospects of increased acreage that may be planted to cotton and wheat in Jones County located this week as the lawmakers in Washington were voting on acreage allotments and quotas.

The Senate voted Monday to permit the planting of more cotton and wheat under government price protection—and to require rigid quotas if Irish potatoes are supported next year.

The Senate wrapped up these and miscellaneous other farm matters in a catch-all bill which it passed by a vote of 53 to 24 and sent back to the House. Numerous differences remain to be adjusted by conference between the two bodies.

Jones County suffered a deep cut in cotton acreage allotment for 1950 under terms of the Department of Agriculture announcement of cotton quotas for next year made last October.

In Jones County, which last year had an allowable of 110,000 acres, acreage permitted for next year was announced as 96,908. In 1948 the county had cotton acreage of 112,000.

Fisher County, which had 96,000 acres in cotton in 1949, will be permitted to plant only 84,219 acres for 1950 unless increases are permitted in the present legislation. Fisher County farmers cultivated 101,000 acres in 1948.

Production in the United States was cut by the October order on an average of 20 per cent by the department. Acreage allowed in the state of Texas was set at 21,600,000, the largest of any state.

This week's bill came to the Senate essentially a measure for the upward adjustment of acreage allotments under the government's cotton price program. During a week's intermittent debate, the Senate put most of the emphasis on the potato problem. Although it voted some restrictions on 1950 potato price supports, it rejected Friday a proposal to cut them off until the growers agree to a tight production control program.

An additional 600,000 to 790,000 acres of land may be planted to cotton, over and above the 21,600,000 acres permitted by the 1949 farm law. (The House voted for an expansion of 1,400,000 to 2,000,000 acres).

Millions of acres of additional land may be planted to wheat in new areas brought into wheat cultivation since the war. Senators Edwin C. Johnson and Millikin of Colorado, who sponsored the amendment for the benefit of Western states, estimated the increase at 1,400,000 acres. The Department of Agriculture said it would add about 4,000,000 acres.

BLANKENSHIP TO JUDGE.

T. C. Blankenship, vocational agriculture instructor in Hamlin's schools, will function as one of the judges in a livestock show at Rotan Saturday.

U.N. Observers in Action

With civil strife continuing in Greece, United Nations military observers teams continue their tedious, often dangerous jobs of watching the country's northern frontiers to make sure that there is no illegal interference on the part of Greece's neighbors. This group of U.N. observers was photographed near Aghia Paraskevi.

Varied Reactions to Parking Meter Operations in Hamlin Heard on Street

Varied reactions to the beginning of parking meter operations in Hamlin have been heard by Herald reporters this week—some favorable and some otherwise. And there probably will continue to be similar reactions for some time to come.

The meters, about 200 of them, were installed last week after thorough discussion by the City Council. Members of the governing body had held conferences with city officials in numbers of neighboring cities that have had experience with the meters.

Designed primarily to pass the parking privileges around for those who have business with the stores and other establishments downtown, operation of the meters was adopted in the hope that congested traffic would be relieved to a great extent.

And judging by the looks of sparsely parked automobiles on Central Avenue and adjoining streets first of the week, that job was being accomplished.

Opposition to the meters was heard before and after their installation by Herald reporters. Some declare that the streets are public property and should permit parking of anybody anywhere at any time for free.

"Hamlin is still a small town, and the meters have no place in a small town," declared one merchant.

"The parking privilege has been abused by too many people coming to town in their cars," reminds another citizen. "Why I know of four working men who drive their cars to town every morning; they used to park three of the cars all day long and ride in the fourth to their work. That practice seemed to be unfair to other people who wanted to come to town to shop, park for a reasonable length of time, then move on out for others to come and do the same thing."

A woman from a nearby rural area who came into town Tuesday morning to shop declared: "I previously had come to Hamlin on similar missions, found parking so difficult I was exasperated by the time I had to leave my car two or three blocks from my shopping places. This week I found an accessible place to park my car, did my shopping handsily and carried my parcels to the nearby car. Saves time for a busy housewife, too," she concluded.

"I'm afraid the parking meters will drive away some of Hamlin's trade," averred one skeptical citizen.

But a bystander who heard his remark quickly countered with: "But all the up and coming cities are turning to parking meters as a logical solution of the traffic problem, and we must keep up the progressive pace." He cinched his contention with: "Parking meters are progress, and if you don't want to get run over, you'd better get out of the way of progress."

Most Hamlin citizens are taking the parking meters with a "watch and wait before passing judgment" attitude.

Members of the City Council point out that the meters were installed for a trial period. That is, if after a reasonable time of operation in Hamlin, the council decides that the meters are not practical, they will be removed by the installing firm.

Pay for the meters will be borne by remission of 50 per cent of the revenues received by the city from the meters.

Like 'em or not, at any rate Hamlin motorists do not have to go to Abilene, Sweetwater, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls to feed the little boxes on steel posts. We can stay at home and spend our nickels and pennies—and that's town loyalty.

Stamford Votes April Fourth on Parking

Herald reporters have been in receipt of such a variety of information regarding action taken or to be followed by Stamford since installation of meters in Hamlin that it was deemed advisable to get authentic information.

Telephone conversation with City Manager Grady Bowdry revealed that Stamford is to vote on retaining their parking meters on April 4 at the same time their city election is held.

Mr. Bowdry reported that the chamber of commerce of that city has been canvassing the trade territory and city tax lists with a questionnaire in post card form as to their choice on the parking meter question and response from city voters has indicated a preference for the meters.

Of interest to Hamlin is the result of elections held in Electra and Eastland this week in which the two cities voted to retain their parking meters.

No Opposition for City Slate Filed by Middle of Week

No opposition to the city political slate announced two weeks ago had developed up until the middle of this week, according to a check of city offices. Deadline for filing of candidacy is Saturday, March 4, with election to follow one month after that deadline.

After announcement recently that Mayor Holly Toler would not be a candidate for re-election, B. M. (Mac) Brundage, member of the present City Council, agreed to have his name submitted for the mayoralty post. J. B. Terrell Jr. has agreed to permit his name to go on the ballot as a successor to Brundage. Two other members of the City Council, Clyde Huff and Arlie Cassle have announced as candidates to succeed themselves.

Other members of the council are I. R. Witt and O. D. Roland. All city officials are elected for two-year terms.

Mrs. M. B. Baker Still In Painful Condition

Condition of Mrs. M. B. Baker, sister of Dr. Will C. House, local Methodist pastor, continued painful but considerably improved this week at her home in Dallas. She was a passenger in Dr. House's car on February 7 in Dallas when the auto was struck by another auto. Mrs. Baker sustained painful bruises.

Dr. House and another sister, Mrs. Joe C. Mills, who lives in Hamlin with the minister, were not injured. Mrs. Baker, who has visited in Hamlin several times, is known to a number of local people.

Not All Gloomy

Hamlin motorists were getting some "kick" out of the parking meter operations first of the week with the awarding of a number of tickets for violations.

Several tickets placed on cars offending the traffic rules Tuesday advised the owners to appear in city court at the city hall on February 29 for hearings.

Only thing the matter with that date is that that wasn't any such day in 1950.

Hamlin Raises 75% Of Red Cross Quota

The Herald was advised by Jack Russell, county chairman, in a late Wednesday report, that success of the Red Cross funds drive appeared to be assured throughout this section of the county.

Figures compiled for different sections and reported in part revealed the following totals:

Anderson Chapel, Mrs. C. A. Branscum, chairman; quota $50.00, raised $61.50.

Stith, R. L. Hudson, chairman; quota $108, raised $115.00.

Oak Grove-Harmony, Mrs. Ardson Beasley, chairman; quota $77.00, raised $59.30.

Lakota, Mrs. R. P. Bennett, chairman; quota $45.00, raised $45.50.

New Light, Mrs. L. H. Culwell, chairman; quota $20.00, raised $25.25.

Wise Chapel, J. A. Rose, chairman; quota oversubscribed but exact figures were not available.

Reports from Stamford at 6:30 p. m. indicated that an early tabulation showed 50 per cent of quota.

Anson reported at 4:30 p. m. that 40 per cent of their quota had been raised with workers still working in that community.

Lions Stage Ladies Night At School Fete

Hamlin Lions and their ladies gathered at the elementary school cafeteria Tuesday night at 7:30 for a special ladies' night meeting. President Irwin presided over an assembly of about 80 Lions and guests.

After the meal had been completed, the members and guests moved to the gymnasium for a very novel program of entertainment provided by Keith and Kenneth Aulds. Keith and Kenneth are twin boys from Chillicothe and were brought here by arrangement with B. V. Newberry.

The two boys demonstrated a remarkable technique in presentation of pantomime renditions to the accompaniment of Spike Jones and other recordings. Many hours of preparation were indicated in the manner in which they synchronized their lip movements and instrument handling with the recordings chosen. The boys were compelled to answer repeated encores after they had completed their original skit.

U.N. Drafts Traffic Convention

Tackling world road traffic problems, a U.N. conference has agreed on an international road traffic convention which eventually would help motorists in all countries. The convention suggests the adoption of a simplified international driving permit which would be honored everywhere. The above exhibit of driving permits issued by 40 countries shows the necessity of reaching some form of simplification and greater uniformity in driving permit requirements.

Three Champions Shown Saturday at Stamford Exhibit

Maintaining their previously established reputation of showing top quality livestock, the boys of Hamlin High School's Future Farmers of America chapter won the lion's share of awards at the annual Jones County club boys' stock show at Stamford Saturday.

Championship trophies were awarded to James Brigham, dairy; James Brigham, fat steer; and James Bowman, fat hog. With the exception of the fat steer trophy, which had not been received, these show trophies were both brought back to Hamlin, and the other will be forwarded. These trophies were won outright and are permanent possessions. An assembly of ribbons and trophies is being made and arrangements are being made to display them in a downtown show window.

Of the $1,200 in prizes awarded, Hamlin gained $587 for the FFA group and $23 for 4-H Clubbers. An interesting fact is that Hamlin entries swept five prizes in three groups in the showing. These were swine sportsmanship, project records and showmanship of beef and dairy cattle. Four grand championships were racked up and three reserve championships.

Breakdown of leading prize winners showed James Brigham in first place with $185; James Bowman, second, $53; Bryan Dutton, third, $39; Larry Reynolds, fourth, $32; and David Ford, fifth, $24. Thirty-four boys from the Hamlin group participated.

T. C. Blankenship, who has led his vocational agriculture boys to many winnings during the past few years, declared that this year's show produced the greatest array of fine hogs and calves in the history of the county event. Nearly 200 boys from over Jones County entered stock in the show. Mr. Blankenship is assisted by H. V. Eades.

A large crowd was on hand for the all-day show at the Cowboy Reunion grounds.

Ray Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, judged the steers and hogs; Frank Martin, Haskell County agent, judged poultry and dairy cattle. James Lindsey did the announcing, and Gerald Proctor, Stamford vocational agriculture teacher, was general superintendent of the show.

James Brigham, who lives on a farm near Tuxedo and attends the Hamlin High School, took the grand champion steer of the show, grand champion Jersey and several prize hogs. Don Gregory, another Hamlin boy, showed the grand champion capon. James Bowman of Hamlin had the grand champion fat hog. The prize dry lot calf was shown by Charles Jennings of the Noodle 4-H Club. His calf was beat out by Brigham's milk fed calf.

Complete results of the show, as announced by the judges, follow Swine Showmanship—James Brigham of Hamlin FFA, first; James Bowman of Hamlin, second; David Ford, Hamlin FFA, third; Franklin Willis, Hamlin FFA, fourth; and Fred Everton, Hamlin FFA, fifth.

Beef Calf Showmanship—James Cox, Lueders 4-H Club, first; Marvin Holloway, Merkel FFA, second; Gilford Pittman, Anson FFA, third; Edward Eckdahl, Stamford FFA, fourth; and Charles Jennings, Noodle 4-H Club, fifth.

FFA Record Books—Alvin Jones, Hamlin FFA, first; Marvin Johnson, Hamlin FFA, second; Don Kelley, Hamlin FFA, third; Troy Collins, Hamlin FFA, fourth; and Joe Ray Rosenbaum, Stamford FFA, fifth.

Track Meet Tests Strength of Squad

A practice track meet will be entered by representation from Hamlin high school at Haskell on Friday, March 3 at 3:00 o'clock. The meet will be conducted as a feeler engagement by four schools composed of Haskell, Stamford, Munday and Hamlin and will give coaches of the teams opportunity to gauge the possibilities of their respective charges.

Hamlin is to be represented in the coming season by a squad built around five letter men. Included in this list are Asa Goodgame, W. T. Stapler, Joe Allen Dean, John Holland and Donald Green. Early farm stamps David Butler, Harold Johnson, Don Rowland and Robert Fletcher as outstanding performers in the group.

Meets scheduled for the season are March 3, Haskell; March 11, open; March 18, Brady; March 25, either Brownwood or San Angelo; April 1, District meet at Haskell and April 15, Regional meet at Lubbock.

The Hamlin squad is pointing with special intensity to the meet at Brady, at which they will defend their leg of the two-mile relay cup in an effort to gain permanent possession of that trophy.

Wheat Growers Organizing to Plan Improvements and Legislative Favor

Hamlin area wheat growers are interested in a two-state wheat improvement program sponsored by the Texas Wheat Producers Association.

Over 75 enthusiastic Texas wheat growers from 16 counties in the Panhandle area met in Amarillo February 20 and formed the Texas Wheat Producers Association. Carl Kuper of Dalhart was elected president. This is the outcome of a series of meetings held in the High Plains area during the last two or three years.

Purpose of the new producers' organization as set forth in the articles of incorporation include the finding of new outlets and new markets for wheat to alleviate the impending surplus, to co-operate with existing research and experimental programs in finding and expediting distribution of new and improved varieties of wheat, to foster a wheat improvement program for Texas, to influence national legislation favorable to the wheat grower, and to advise the public of the merits of the wheat industry.

It was decided that each wheat growing county in the state would form a county Wheat Growers Association, the president of which is to become a director of the state organization. Voluntary contributions of 1-4 cent per bushel will be requested, to be collected at the time the wheat is marketed or placed under the loan. It is planned that the organization shall be non-profit.

A variety identification school is scheduled for Abilene for March 30 and 31, to which Hamlin area wheat growers are invited.

WHAT AN OPERATION!

"Oh, Mary," Blanche excitedly exclaimed, "I've had a lot happen to me since I saw you last. I had my teeth out and an electric stove and refrigerator put in."

Mechanization of Farm in Area to Be Census Result

Trend toward mechanization of farms in the Hamlin area has been unusual during the past several years, greater than in many of the southern states.

The 1950 census of agriculture to be taken in April, will indicate the progress of farm mechanization in Jones County. Facts obtained in the forthcoming census when compared with statistics from earlier censuses for the number of tractors, motor trucks, horses and mules on farms will indicate the changes in the mechanization of farms.

Report for the 1920 census of agriculture shows that the number of horses and mules, including colts, on farms in the United States exceeded 25,000,000. By 1945, the number of horses and mules, including colts, on farms had declined to less than 12,000,000. During this same period, tractors on farms increased from 246,000 in 1920 to 2,422,000 in 1945. Motor trucks on farms increased about 11 times to 1,490,000 in 1945.

Hamlin Man Among Delegates to REA Convention at Chicago Next Week

A Hamlin man will be among the six representatives of the Midwest Electric Cooperative who are planning to leave March 4 to attend the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association convention in Chicago March 6 to 9.

System President John A. Stavelly of Fluvanna will head the delegation, which includes Manager Johnnie Ammons of Roby, and Directors M. L. Andress of Snyder, Vernon Harris of Hamlin, A. A. Aaron of Rotan and Demp Kearney of Sweetwater.

The convention program is designed to help rural electric system directors and managers solve some of the problems of extending electric lines to more farms and giving better service to members. Experts in all phases of rural electrification in open forum discussions of these problems. Heading the experts will be Claude R. Wickard, REA administrator and former secretary of agriculture.

National government and political leaders will also participate, giving the delegates information on the cooperation rural electrification can get from the government.

Sources of more low cost power, possibilities of giving members more aid in making the best use of electricity, and technical problems in efficient management will be among the leading subjects of discussion among the 4,000 delegates expected for the four-day session.

This will be the eighth annual meeting of the National Rural Electric Cooperative, an organization of 849 rural electric systems serving almost 2,500,000 farms. NRECA was organized in 1942 to work on the mutual problems of its members and exchange information, since there were many things which could not be done with a single system. The organization has set up a retirement and security insurance program for rural electric system employees; worked with manufacturers in getting more supplies and better service in rural areas; and has led efforts to get more low cost electricity for the ment by George von Roeder, chairman of the council.Meeting was devoted to the discussing of arrangements for publicizing the 1950 Census of Agriculture to be conducted in Jones County in April.Help of USDA county councils throughout the country in informing farmers about the forthcoming Census has been asked of Secretary Charles F. Brannan of the United States Department of Agriculture.The county councils are to cooperate with the offices of Census district supervisors now being established throughout the nation in preparation for the 17th Decennial Census of the United States. This census will include population and housing as well as agriculture. A population and housing census was taken in 1940, while the last agricultural census was in 1945.The Department of Agriculture and its branches throughout the country are among the principal users of the Census statistics.

Facts ascertained about the farm industry are used as bases for plans, studies and estimates made by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the Farmers Home Administration, the Farm Credit Administration, the Production and Marketing Administration and other farm agencies.Members of the USDA Council for Jones County are: George von Roeder, Farmers Home Administration; W. H. Lehmberg, Extension Service; Miss Loreta Allen, Extension Service; Joe Breed,
Jones County Farm Loan Association; M. E. Carothers, Stamford Production Credit; Walter Cook, PMA; C. M. Lester, REA;

tion Service; and James W. Love,

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Is a domiciliary home a place where ailing veterans may convalesce after illness?A—No. A domiciliary home is designed to provide a home for those eligible veterans who have a chronic condition requiring minimal medical attention. For admission, veterans must have no adequate means of support or must make an affidavit of inability to defray the expenses of such domiciliary care. Service requirements for admission to a domiciliary home are essentially the same as for hospital treatment.Q—While going to school under the GI Bill, my hand was seriously burned in a chemistry class. Will VA pay my hospital expense in a local hospital?A—No. Any disabilities incurred by a veteran while taking education or training under the GI Bill are considered non-service-connected, but you may be able to establish eligibility for hospitalization in a VA hospital because of your war service.Q—I was recently discharged from the U. S. Army because of a service-connected disability. If I should need hospitalization, how and where should I apply for it?A—See your nearest VA contact representative or apply to a VA regional office or hospital. In case of emergency, you may call the nearest VA hospital collect. VA representatives will handle the necessary application and other forms.LITTLE OFF KEY?Teacher—"What a voice you
